The article analyzes the influence of the Balkar national movement on the process of state and political reconstruction of Kabardino-Balkaria in 1991-early 1992. It is revealed that the Balkar national movement had a significant impact on the socio-political situation in Kabardino-Balkaria. The author comes to the conclusion that the power structures, despite the boycott of the presidential elections by the Balkar national movement, were able to maintain their positions; they established the post of President of the KBR and held its elections.

Keywords: Kabardino-Balkarian Republic, Balkarian national movement, transformation of the political system, sovereinization.
